

Amelia Earhart

<http://gardenofpraise.com/ibdearha.htm>

When she was young Amelia was called	their grandparents for nearly a year.
Amelia's plane was lost	built a roller coaster from the top of a shed.
Amelia and her sister and friend	for young women of her time.
Their mother encouraged	became Amelia's husband.
The Earhart children lived with	when she was trying to cross the Pacific.
One Christmas her dad	by flying as high as 14,000 feet.
Amelia dropped out of college	from Neta Snook.
She first took flying lessons	gave the children a .22-caliber rifle.
She set a new altitude record for women	"Meelie" by her family.
Amelia's car was	to become a nurse and help wounded soldiers.
George Palmer Putnam	called the "Yellow Peril".
Amelia was a role model	her girls in tomboyish activities.